To whom it may concern,

My name is Ansh Bindroo, and I am a Year 12 (Grade 11) student in Dubai College. I am looking to learn filmmaking in my higher education, so I am submitting entries to competitions like the Urbanite Film Festival to showcase my screenwriting skills.

This screenplay is titled "The Better Generation" and is about conflict between generations, Generation Z and Baby Boomers in this case. I was inspired to write a story on this aspect of the world we live in after seeing articles from the media patronising the current generation in their headlines, resulting in unhealthy discourse being instigated.

The conflict here is represented as an argument between an Indian teenager and an old man; the two characters view their respective generation as superior to the other. The message of the story, which both characters realise by the end, is that both old and young generations can find common ground despite their major differences and learn useful ideals and values from each other.

Best regards,
Ansh Bindroo
